

Energy Balancing Seminar

CPR for Your Soul

Suddenly feeling off balance, unsettled or moody? Learn to balance your feelings and emotions. In this workshop I'll show you how you can do it with yourself and others. You can change negative emotions into positive ones by using energy directed to specific locations on your body. The effects are immediate and profound. In this seminar, you can learn to do the following:

- Learn to change your feelings instantly from negative to positive as it's happening
- Be in charge of your own emotions
- Create the "feel good" energy that attracts what you want to create in your life, not what you fear
- Learn to muscle test yourself and balance energy points when you are feeling off
- Bring an instant lift in your mood and in your life
- Release energy that does not belong to you (misqualified energy)
- Put up an energetic shield to prevent the attraction of unwanted energy
- Balance mood swings from PMS, menopause and hormonal shifts
- Prevent cravings around addictions
- Release intensity from integration of a belief change session
